Next Generation Stewards: Cultural Confluences is a four day program for New Mexico and Colorado middle and high school students and their teachers or service leaders at historic places near Albuquerque including Petroglyph National Monument. Participants selected through a competitive application process are offered community service hours and full scholarships for all program costs, including meals, transportation and lodging (lodging will be provided in Albuquerque, New Mexico throughout the Youth Summit).

During the Summit participants will:

- Explore nationally significant historic properties.
- Learn about current preservation projects.
- Participate in hands-on learning activities.
- Investigate interpretative approaches for National Parks and historic places.
- Study new programs and approaches to preservation and archaeology.
- Interact with other students and national and state leaders.
- Serve through work on an important community service project.
- Create recommendations for future generations.
- Understand issues and challenges of and protecting historic places.
- Engage in programs to better understand the region's cultural heritage.
- Experience fun and unique activities.
- BE a leader! Your ideas will be shared at a public Town Hall!

SPACE IS LIMITED! Application Deadline: June 10, 2017
